Methodist church casts lot against dockside gambling

BY TRACI BONNEY
Another opponent of dockside gambling is taking a stand. Members of Main Street United Methodist Church's administrative board, after publishing a full-page advertisement in the Sunday Sea Coast Echo, requested Monday that the county board of supervisors accept and note in its minutes the presentation of a resolution stating the church's stance against gambling. Fred Wagner, a board member, acted as spokesman for the church. Other members in attendance were Rev. Van Carpenter, pastor; Ellis Cuevas, chairman of the administrative board and David McDonald, board member. Wagner said, "The church, through the administrative board, felt that it should take a stand" in case the issue of dockside gambling advances beyond ideas and possibilities.

Wagner assured the supervisors that the church did not expect the supervisors to take action on the resolution, but merely to accept it and keep it on file.

Wagner also said Main Street United Methodist Church is asking other churches to join in stating their opposition to gambling.

In other business, board of supervisors attorney Gerald Gex informed the board of a request made by Calgon Carbon Corp. that the board pass a resolution stating its intent to grant customary tax exemptions to the company if it locates in Hancock County. The board passed the resolution.

The board also accepted a bid from Roper Supply for sheriff's department vehicle equipment, and authorized Chancery Clerk E. Michael Necaise to set the county's docket to reflect the beginning of fiscal year 1990, which started October 1.

The board recessed until 9 a.m. on October 12.

Bay dockside gambling opponents, supporter seek council's support

BY TRACI BONNEY
The outcome of the current dockside gambling controversy is still anyone's bet following Tuesday's Bay St. Louis City Council meeting. The stakes seemed to increase as residents voiced their opinions during the council's public forum.

The Rev. Nathan Barber came to the meeting not as pastor of First Baptist Church, but as a resident of Felicity Street in Bay St. Louis. "I am coming to ask you to do whatever you can — and I know you can do a lot — to discourage dockside gambling in this area," he stated.

nos profit from casinos." He also gave the council member's copies of a report written by Robert Abrams, the attorney general of the state of New York, showing the results of his research on the effects of legalized gambling.

Barber told the council members Abrams started his research as a proponent of legalized gambling, but changed his mind during the course of his research. Barber urged the council members to read and think about the report.

Beverly Martin, director of the 163-member Gulf Coast Restaurant Association, told the council one-sixth of the association's members are located in Hancock County, and the association thinks dockside gambling would be an asset to the area.

Several members of the Main Street United Methodist Church's administration board listened as spokesman Fred Wagner presented and asked the council to accept a resolution stating the church's opposition to dockside gambling.

Barber cited several reasons for his opposition — economic, aesthetic, crime-related and traffic problems he claims will be caused by the advent of dockside gambling in the area.

"Bay St. Louis is not going to profit from this," he said. "Cas-

Hancock bus drivers protest underpayment

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Seven Hancock County school bus drivers complained to the school board and superintendent about unpaid hours they have worked since the new Hancock High School's opening.

Driver Thelma Shiyon said when the new school opened, assistant superintendent Eddie Danzey asked the seven to continue their regular routes, picking up all students and driving to Hancock North Central High, to deliver elementary students. From there, the seven continue on to the new school with the junior/senior high students.

Shiyon said they agreed, providing the school would compensate them for the additional time worked.

"We have worked 24 days now, for the same pay," said Shiyon. "I would rather go back to the old way if we're not going to get paid more. Let them find someone else to drive to the new school."

Superintendent Terrell Randolph told the drivers at Monday's meeting time was needed to research what would be fair compensation for the additional hours.

Randolph said, "I think a bus driver should get paid by time, more than route." He spoke of across-the-board raises for all non-certified positions, "soon as we can."

The board agreed to have some answer for the drivers by the October 10 meeting.

The new school's contractor informed the board the freshly-laid sod may be damaged during Friday night's homecoming football game.

The board and contractor agreed reduced watering would dry the ground, better preparing it for the night's activity.

The contractor also updated the board on the progress of covered walkways at the new school noting, "the framework

Improvements on the way for Waveland water, sewer system

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

The City of Waveland is proceeding with plans for $1.3 million of improvements to the city's water and sewerage system, after receiving no protests during the required 30-day advertisement period.

City engineer Ray Eaton reported to the board of aldermen two sites for a planned well in Ward 1 were being tested for pressure and content.

The new well will improve pressure in Ward 1 and supply water to an additional 160 homes.

The city agreed to comply with the mandate set by the state Department of Transportation to drug test gas system employees.

At the urging of board attorney Lucien Gex, the board approved Waveland's membership into the Mississippi Drug Testing Consortium as a cost-effective method for the drug screening to be carried out.

All gas system employees will be involved in the program at a cost of $80 per person per year, to be paid by the city.

Once a month, the consortium randomly selects a percentage to be tested from all participating members.

The City of Bay St. Louis joined the same consortium in August 1990 to meet the state mandate.

The board agreed to increase the Coleman Avenue branch of the City-County Library's budget by $4000 to assist in book purchases.

Derek Breerwood appeared before the board giving an update on the progress of "Jamey's" on Coleman Avenue.

Breerwood explained "Jamey's" would be used as a multi-purpose entertainment facility, primarily for the gathering of local teenagers.

The building could also be used for adult activities and for religious gatherings on Sundays.

Beer and wine-coolers would be available only to adults, and a policeman would be hired to help supervise, according to Breerwood.

Alderman Stella Frilot expressed the board's appreciation, saying the building will fill a need in the community.

The board approved to pay $800 for an annual gas survey to check for leaks and other faults.

October 8-12, 1990 was proclaimed "Court Observance Week" by the board.

In other business:

The board agreed to seek a quote for lights to be placed at the Elwood-Bourgeois field on

Halloween horrors

Ghosts in the trees and pumpkins on the lawns—September 29? What's the deal here?

Folks, Halloween is 27 days away, for cryin' out loud!

Look, I like having an excuse to decorate my house as much as the next person (in fact, I put my Christmas tree up the weekend after Thanksgiving some years), but don't you see what's happening when you get ready for a holiday—especially Halloween—a whole month in advance?

Oh, for goodness' sake, put that match down and relax. You don't have to torch my column, wrap fish in it, line the parakeet's cage, paper-train the new puppy or whack your children with it; I'm not getting "religious." As hard as it may be for some of you to believe, I'm setting aside my personal convictions—at least while I'm writing this column—about this descendant of a pagan holiday called Halloween.

I'm not going to preach to you about spiritual demons; I had in mind "demons" of a different sort. Commercial ones.

I'm being serious! Have you been shopping in your local department stores lately?

I walked into my favorite everything-but-real-groceries store recently, and immediately wondered if the calendar had exploded.

Down one set of aisles were lots of orange-and-black plastic and nylon things some manufacturer had the gall to label "Halloween costumes," as well as all sorts of other cosmetic items for those who want to achieve that "I was an extra in the Nightmare on Elm Street movies" look.

And of course, there's also the house and lawn decorations and the Halloween candy (the stuff you don't mind giving to other peoples' kids because you won't have to deal with the "sugar high" later on).

Meanwhile, in the crafts section, Santa Claus (or maybe it was Mrs. Claus) apparently stopped by in mid-August with lots of goodies for those who want to have a home-made Christmas—everything from latch-hook tree skirts to needle-point ornaments to pre-printed, cut-sew-and-stuff toys, stockings and Nativity scenes.

I didn't notice any Thanksgiving items out, but that doesn't surprise me much. Somehow, that holiday has managed to escape most of the rampant commercialism that has reduced other special occasions to little more than credit-limit-ruining, headache-producing, hair-graying frantic shopping sprees.

Oh, I'm sure there were a few turkey and cornucopia table decorations somewhere, but they were most likely buried under the crepe paper jack-o'-lanterns and spooks.

But back to my original point. For every Halloween lawn ornament you set out, there's some manufacturer lurking in the corners of a factory somewhere in New Jersey (also known to my friends in college as "Limbo") rubbing his hands together and chuckling in a sinister way.

You know why? Every time you set out those crepe paper thingamajigs and it rains, what are you going to do? You have two choices—after you've either blow-dried and removed the ruined decorations; mowed them into your lawn, hoping the grass will think they're mulch; or left the mess there to save the neighborhood kids the trouble of "rolling" your yard.

You can either buy new ones, or go without them.

In case you're wondering, there's a principle behind making the darn things out of crepe paper. It's the same principle that results in panty hose that run after one wearing, nail polish that chips 10 minutes after it's dry, and Yugos.

I won't give this principle a name, but P.T. Barnum gave a good definition of why it works: "There's a sucker born every minute."

Translation: we're just dumb enough to buy something that is going to ruin quickly, then replace it with another of the same item.

And each time we exercise our brilliance in following this principle, that mysterious manufacturer from Limbo makes some more money.

It seems to me you could profit more by simply making your decorations out of dollar bills. Why not, considering the high prices and low durability of most decorations?

Just remember all this as you set out your decorations for the upcoming trick-or-treater lawn-trampling that we call Halloween.

And don't be surprised if you see some sinister little man drive by in a Rolls Royce with a New Jersey license plate, laughing maniacally as he watches you.

Dedeaux resigns seat

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Hancock County School Board members accepted a letter of resignation from fellow Board member Barbara Dedeaux at the Monday, October 1 meeting. Dedeaux was not present.

Board Attorney Joseph Gex read Dedeaux's letter, which gave as reason for her resignation her having taken a job with the South Panola School District in Batesville as an elementary principal.

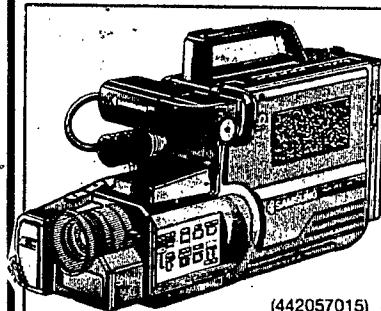

Dedeaux's letter expressed her concern over the difficulty beat division presents for the election of minorities. Superintendent Terrell Randolph stated that the board has 60 days in which to appoint her replacement.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

I am sure Judge Flood of Bay St. Louis is having a hard time trying to explain to his friends how he caught two white trout at one time on the same hook last weekend.

Of course, he had several witnesses to verify his catch; I was one of them.

Now, I have caught two fish at the same time on artificial lures a few times, but they were different hooks.

I have caught two fish on the same treble hook fishing with shrimp, but I never have caught two fish on a single hook like I and several others saw Flood doing while he was fishing on the Waveland Fishing Pier last Sunday morning.

The second half of high school football gets underway Friday night with all three Hancock teams seeing action during homecoming festivities.

The undefeated Hawks of Hancock High School will be seeking victory six when they host St. Martin's Yellow Jackets.

This will be the first game for Hancock to play in their brand-sparkling-new stadium located at the new school facilities next to the Stennis Airpark.

Hancock has been winning, but has been doing it in some very close games for the past three weeks.

When a team is undefeated, 'everyone is shooting at them,' as head coach Irvin Favre says, so Hancock needs to really be up for St. Martin.

The Yellow Jackets would like to even their season's record with a victory over Hancock.

I am sure the Hawks will be ready, and I would not be surprised if Hancock would have more fan support than last week when they played Stanislaus. It has been a very long time since a visitor at St. Stanislaus had so many supporters in the bleachers.

The Tigers of Bay High will be seeking victory number two of the season when they host the Long Beach Bearcats Friday night.

Homecoming will also be celebrated by Bay High, who showed some sparks last week in their game against powerful East Central in scoring 12 points.

The young Tigers need to get it all together if they expect to have a good showing against Long Beach who are very hungry for a victory.

St. Stanislaus will also be celebrating homecoming this Friday when the Rocks play host to Salmen, La.

The Rock-A-Chaws were very impressive last week in their loss to undefeated Hancock High School.

I know it is hard for a team to show the same attitude two weeks in a row, but if the Rocks show the same effort against Salem as they did against the Hawks, they could chalk up a homecoming victory.

The only thing Stanislaus needs is a little more of a scoring punch.

The Pirates of Pass Christian will travel to East Central this week to test their strength.

Pass Christian has been playing the best high school football this season in quite a few years.

East Central is a strong team, but the Pirates could tumble them with a few good bounces of the ball.

This is the last regular scheduled game of the year for the Coast Episcopal Raiders as they travel to play Open Door Academy in Foley, Ala.

The win last week on the road may help the Raiders, and they could possibly close the season on a winning note.

I plan on being at homecoming this week and I hope you will be there, too.

Your team needs your support, so get to the game and support them.

REPORT FROM THE SENATE

by Sen. Vic Franckiewicz Jr.

Franckiewicz supports study

Senator Vic Franckiewicz Jr. of Bay St. Louis supports the call for a study of the ports in Mississippi to create a long-range plan for their development.

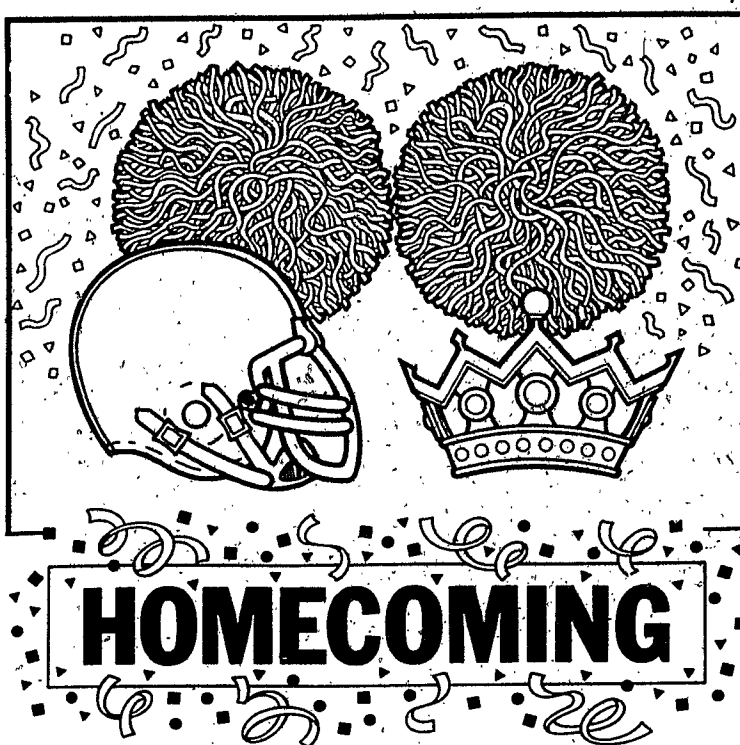

Department of Economic and Community Development Director Mac Holladay proposed the study at a meeting of the Senate Ports and Industries Committee of which Franckiewicz is a member.

"We learned that the 20 ports in Mississippi compete not only with other states but with themselves. Some facilities were built by local entities without sufficient planning and they may never be utilized. The sad thing is that only a small portion of Mississippi products go through Mississippi ports, probably because the businesses are not familiar with what these ports have to offer," Franckiewicz said.

He noted that the State Port at Gulfport is the third largest container port in the Gulf. It handles 60 percent of all exports from Honduras, 450 truckloads of bananas come in each week, and is increasing its export shipments of Mississippi poultry.

"I am impressed with the improvements in the facilities and the good management and marketing practices instituted at the port within the past year which has resulted in a 19-percent increase in tonnage. The deepening of the channel to 36 feet will be a great improvement to the port because 70 percent of all vessels cannot now call at the port because of its depth," Franckiewicz said.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Advertisement against gambling offered biased, misleading claims

Dear Editor,

In all fairness, I believe I have a right to present an opposing viewpoint to your full-page advertisement on page 3A, Sept. 30. But first, let me cite a recent news item:

In the Oct. 2 issue of Globe newspaper, it was reported that, on August 25, an Indianapolis, Ind. resident, Mrs. Mable Hibbler, "put herself in the Hands of God" and hit a $5,500,000 jackpot in the state lottery!

"God says He'll take care of His people—and He will," said Mrs. Hibbler, who picked the winning numbers out of her Bible. She'll share the prize with her daughter, Mrs. Cindy Carter.

Mrs. Hibbler and Mrs. Carter were reading from the Book of Joshua when they noticed the six numbers.

"I got a strange feeling," recalls Cindy, who is 27. "I felt like I had to write the numbers down."

Mable said she also got a strange feeling and told her daughter to play the numbers in that night's Lotto drawing. Cindy bought a ticket with the numbers from Exodus 15:26, Deuteronomy 31:2, and Deuteronomy 34:7. She got in to play just minutes before the lottery was about to close before that night's drawing.

That night, they watched their numbers come up—chosen on TV. "Mama! Cindy screamed, 'Look what the Lord did!'"

"I'm just thankful to God," Mable insisted. "I'm not all that excited."

Now, tell me, considering the above and the fact that, reading through my Bible, I cannot find any outright prohibition of gambling, since nearly everything that exists around us in life is in some way or another, a gamble. How can gambling be "contrary to the spirit of Scripture," as you say in your ad?

I want to say here that I am NOT in favor of commercial gambling such as casinos, gaming machines for commercial profit, dockside or riverboat gambling, etc., but I believe that a state lottery will benefit Mississippi and help lift us from the financial quagmire without the need to impose great and burdensome taxes on the people as well as help to provide the school children with a decent education and give them some hope for the future.

Further, I believe bingo for beneficial non-profit institutions serves a very valuable and useful purpose. It helps these non-profit institutions to remain in existence and to provide useful and important functions in society.

In addition, these bingo games bring to seniors very useful and important entertainment which helps them live out their final years in pleasure and enjoyment, and does no real harm to others, therefore I cannot accept bingo as being a "crime."

Since I am a Catholic, I see none of the faults you claim about gambling as a state lottery or as a means of income for non-profit organizations.

However, your advertisement was, in effect, "throwing the baby out with the dirty water," since you didn't see it fit or necessary to discriminate between gambling as a profitable commercial enterprise or as a valuable and beneficial community situation.

I really believe it is the church's duty to lead and teach their OWN followers from the pulpit and not to engage in hypocrisy through meddling with the lives of non-members by using their political power and clout to oppress those whose opinions may be different.

Such a decision should be made in the polling booth by a majority of voters as regards their own desires without unfair biased political rhetoric.

Since this is unfortunately complex and long, I won't comment on the other biased claims in your ad except to say they are all unfair and misleading.

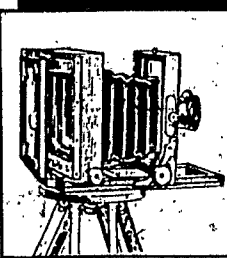

People shouldn't have to live in a dictatorship state in a country that proclaims to all the world that we are a land of liberty and democracy!

By the way, I'm still opposed to any commercial form of gambling for private gain.

Sincerely,

Paul D. Gilbert

On last Friday evening, one of the largest crowds to follow the St. Stanislaus College football team assembled on the campus of the college to form a motorcade to Biloxi to witness the game between the Rock-A-Chaws and Biloxi High. Headed by a corps of motorcycle police of the state and county, and with the St. Stanislaus Band leading the motorcade, twenty busses including the college bus and privately owned cars, all decorated in bunting in college colors of black and red, made up a colorful and noisy parade with sirens going at full strength. A large representation from the Sideline Club and nearly the entire faculty and student body of the college, with groups from St. Joseph Academy and the Bay High School rode in busses or private cars and helped cheer the Rock-A-Chaws to victory in the brilliant game which they played in which they were victors over the Biloxi team with a score of 10 to 0.

The High School student body of the Bay St. Louis School has elected the following class officers for the school session: Senior Class; Preston LeBreton, president; Emily Kellar, vice-president; and Leontine Ziegler, secretary-treasurer. Colson seeks re-election as Ward 3 Alderman Curtis P. (Phil) Colson Jr. announces his candidacy for re-election as a Democratic candidate in Waveland's November 6 primary held at the Waveland Library on Coleman Avenue.

He was elected to office of Alderman, Ward 3 in a special election in May 1988.

Colson, a native of the Bay-Waveland area, is married to the former Roxanne Adams of Waveland. They reside in Waveland with their three children Curt, Chad and Wendy. He and his family are members of St. Clare Parish.

CURTIS P. COLSON JR.

He is the son of Curtis Colson Sr., a life-long resident of Hancock County, now retired and residing in Hancock County, and Joanne Erskine Colson, also a life-long resident of Hancock County who now resides in Waveland and owns and operates Mijo's Florist in that city.

Colson attended Bay Senior High School and Pearl River Community College, where he studied pre-architecture. He is a graduate of Louisiana State University, where he attended the School of Environmental Design and earned a bachelor's degree in architecture. He was graduated in the top ten of his class.

His studies included architecture, city planning and urban development and feasibility studies of potential growth for cities. He has authored several feasibility studies, as well as contracts and proposals involving government agencies.

Colson is owner and manager of local business, CPC Design-Build. He is a member of the Chamber of Commerce and is actively involved in the business community. He is responsible for assisting several new small businesses to locate in Waveland. He believes the small businessman is the backbone of a strong city.

His extensive community involvement includes membership in Bay-Waveland Rotary Club. He is a former member of the Bay Area Youth Soccer Association and served two terms as secretary of the board. He has also volunteered several years in the soccer league, coaching the Under-8 through Under-14 teams.

He said, "Working with our youth was an unexpected and rewarding pleasure. I believe recreational facilities and parent involvement is a part of the solution for our youths' development."

"It will help deter drug abuse and juvenile crime and give our children an opportunity to use their energy in a positive direction. With all this potential, we surely need to expand our recreational programs."

Colson is a member of the American Legion, Post No. 77 in Waveland and is also a member of the Disabled American Veterans. He is an U.S. Navy veteran of the Vietnam War, where he served active duty.

"If re-elected to office, I will continue to seek and support new, improved city government policies. I will, as in the past, voice the opinion of my constituents and respond to our community needs."

"I will also be an alderman who supports the vast demands of our growing city and help set a new direction to incorporate such policies to meet our future concerns."

When It Comes To Auto Financing,

* Hancock Is Your #1 Bank.

During the first eight months of 1990, more people in south Mississippi financed their cars and trucks through Hancock Bank than any other local or out-of-state Bank. More than the Credit Unions. More than the Savings & Loans. Even more than two of the big three auto manufacturer's credit corporations.

Surprised? You shouldn't be. Hancock Bank has consistently financed more automobiles than any other bank in south Mississippi since the 1930's.

And it doesn't matter whether you work directly with the dealer, or with your loan officer at your local branch, you will get the same competitive rate.

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire Caire

Every country, every cuisine in this wide world has its own special rice dishes. I'm sure, from the Jambalaya and the "Dirty Rice" of Creole and Cajun cuisine to the Pilau and Red Rice of Charleston and other parts of South Carolina, and Risotto of Italy, the Paella of Spain and Mexico, the Fried Rice of the Chinese and so on!

These dishes, of course, vary from country to country, but there are basic similarities—the rice is often cooked with butter and/or oil and seasonings, as well as shellfish or chicken or meat such as ham, or a combination of two or more, along with delectable additions such as mushrooms, tomatoes and so on.

One of the more tasty variations I enjoy is what Carol Surgi calls her "sort of Fried Rice." I call it "Carol's Seafood Special" and I think that you will, also, once you've cooked it up. Here's:

SEAFOOD SPECIAL

2 cups rice, cooked and cooled
1 can bean sprouts
1 can bamboo shoots
1 can water chestnuts, sliced
1/2 cup fresh mushrooms (or small can) sliced
1 can (small) of tiny green peas

2 lbs. shrimp, cleaned and deveined
1 can crabmeat, or fresh crabmeat

1/2 cup each chopped green onions, bell (green) pepper, celery and parsley

2 eggs, slightly beaten
Soy sauce to your taste

Salt and pepper to your taste

Drain and rinse the sprouts, shoots, chestnuts and peas, also mushrooms, if using the canned variety. If using fresh mushrooms, saute in a bit of oil or butter. Mix all together. Saute the chopped peppers, parsley and celery and green onions in a bit of oil.

Add the rice and shrimp, gently stirring together, then the crabmeat and the drained vegetables, salt and pepper to taste, along with splashes of soy sauce to your taste and continue cooking and gently stirring together. Add the beaten eggs, continuing to stir.

For further embellishment, Carol tosses additional peeled and deveined shrimp with melted butter, and adds garlic and chopped parsley and salt and pepper and broils or sautes just until a pretty pink, and serves the shrimp and sauce as a topping for her fried rice.

Shrimp cooked in the sauce in this manner are also tasty as an appetizer or atop baked potatoes or spaghetti—and so easy!

(Four to six generous servings)

If you are monitoring salt intake, use the lower-salt soy sauce.

Food myths

Test your nutrition knowledge

Nutrition experts estimate that 80 percent of nutrition information received by consumers is "myth-information."

Are you basing your food choices on sound nutritional advice? Take this test to see how much you know about healthy eating.

Myth: Imitation Foods - Equal to Real?

The U. S. Food and Drug Administration defines the word "imitation" to mean "nutritionally inferior." That is, the food is lower in protein, vitamins or minerals than its standard counterpart.

For example, imitation cheese, even if it meets the FDA protein quality standards, still may not match the protein quality of real cheese and may not equal real cheese in vitamin and mineral content.

Myth: Light or Lite:

When these terms are used on food labels for products other than meat or poultry, they can mean anything from lighter in color or texture to less sodium, fat, or calories.

When these labels appear on meat or poultry, the product must contain no more than 10 percent fat or have at least 25 percent less fat than similar products.

Become a smart label reader by understanding what these terms mean.

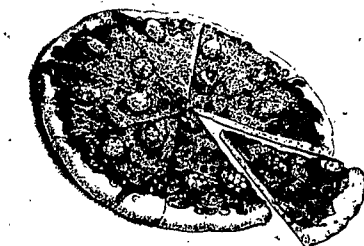

Myth: Snacking - A Bad Habit?

Snacking doesn't have to be a "bad" habit. Many of us consume about 20 percent of the day's calories in snacks, a statistic which can reflect a healthy eating style when snacks are chosen wisely.

Raw vegetables, fruits, whole-grain muffins, cheese and yogurt are good choices and give the body needed nutrients when eaten as part of a balanced diet.

Myth: Milk is for Kids.

Milk is for children and adults alike. Milk and milk products supply key nutrients including calcium, riboflavin and protein that contribute to strong bones, healthy skin and good vision.

The latest edition of the Recommended Dietary Allowances (RDAs) recommends a higher intake of calcium even after people reach their full height.

The new RDAs suggest 1200 mgs. of calcium per day from ages 11 through 24, instead of through age 18 as previously recommended. The RDAs for adults 25 and older is 800 mgs. per day, which is equivalent to approximately three servings of milk or milk products daily.

Myth: Pregnancy - Eating

for Two?

A pregnant woman is often said to be "eating for two." However, this doesn't mean she should eat twice as much. Actually, a pregnant woman needs only an extra 300 calories a day to meet her increased nutrient requirements.

Calcium needs also increase during pregnancy. Pregnant women need 1200 mgs. of calcium per day, the amount found in about one quart of milk.

Myth: Cholesterol Only Comes from the Foods we Eat?

While we do get cholesterol from some of the foods we eat, our bodies make cholesterol regardless of food choices.

The body needs a certain amount of cholesterol to carry out a number of vital functions, including the formation of nervous system tissue, vitamin D and hormones.

Myth: Pizza - Not a Well-balanced Meal?

Pizza, continues to be a favorite "fast food," but it's a comparatively healthy food choice as well. A typical slice of thin crust pizza contains less than 30 percent of calories from fat and almost 60 percent of calories from carbohydrates.

Pizza provides important nutrients: calcium and protein from the cheese, vitamins A and C from the tomato sauce, and B vitamins and iron from the crust.

By selecting toppings such as green peppers and mushrooms, you can boost vitamin and mineral intake.

Myth: Dessert is a No-No?

Not true. For most of us (unless a serious health problem is involved), no food should be totally off-limits. Desserts can be part of a balanced diet including choices from the four

FOOD—Page 7A

Nick's offers the ultimate catfish for seafood lovers

I would have told you last week that my favorite catfish dish is crisp-fried catfish fillets, lemon-splashed; or sauteed catfish fillets in a winey-buttery-parsley sauce.

But, that was before I had tasted Nick's special stuffed catfish (with a crabmeat and shrimp dressing) in a subtly flavored crabmeat sauce at Nick's House of Catfish at 447 Highway 90 in Waveland!

Did I say I "tasted" this dish? I all but inhaled it, plate and all, it was so utterly delicious!

Catfish is, of course, the specialty of this place, although there are quite a number of other tasty seafood, steak and chicken offerings as well. But at this restaurant catfish is indeed King of the Table! And, that suits me and my palate very well!

The stuffed catfish fillets with a mound of the crabmeat and shrimp dressing, broiled to perfection in their superior crabmeat sauce will delight even the most demanding diner.

The servings are so generous that many diners request a "take-home box." I refuse to use the euphemism "doggie bag" in connection with such heavenly food!

In fact, both my dinner partner and I were so taken with the savory crabmeat sauce that we're thinking of ordering a double, no, make that a triple order apiece of the sauce as a side order next time that we go to dinner at Nick's, and sit there eating it with a spoon; that's how good it is! Just don't pay any attention to us, please, we may even lick the bowl!

The Catfish Nicholas (fillets fried in flour coating, with crabmeat sauce is also a winner, as is the seafood platter which boasts a combination of soft shell and stuffed crab, catfish fillet, shrimp, oysters and scallops.

All these dishes are served with coleslaw, hushpuppies and those ever-so-crunchy "Curly-Q Fries." (You may wish to substitute baked potato, green salad or mixed vegetables, at a very minimal additional cost.)

Other "specials" (it's all quite special) at Nick's House of Catfish include the Sea and Land Platter, which offers tasty tenderloin tips sauteed in butter and wine sauce, keeping company on the platter with either fried shrimp or oysters as you choose, and served with a green salad, baked potato and bread.

There are also filet mignons and ribeye steaks (of varying sizes) for your selection, along with ground tenderloin and fried boneless chicken breasts or grilled or smoked chicken breasts, served with green salad, baked potato and bread.

But, as for my taste, I'll choose the catfish, as I've done time and time again at Nick's and intend to gorge my happy way through every catfish item on the menu.

In previous sorties to Nick's House of Catfish, I had usually ordered the catfish platter (whole or fillets) or catfish nugget dinner, or the oysters or flounder, all of which more than met my culinary expectations.

Nick's House of Catfish is open Wednesday through Saturday from 5 to 10 p.m. and Sunday from noon to 9 p.m. (Closed Monday and Tuesday).

And, if you're a true catfish devotee (or glutton) such as I, don't miss the "super-special" on Wednesday and Thursday night (5-10 p.m.) for that's the night for all-you-can-eat (on the premises) fried catfish. Broiled or smoked catfish is just one dollar extra.

Your hosts, Nick (Breazeale) and Gloria (Breazeale Welch) welcome senior citizens with special senior citizen discounts as well as the youngsters with special child's plate prices. In other words, this is a family restaurant with an informal air and superior food and service in pleasant surroundings. The other evening Denise, our smiling and attentive waitress, added that extra "caring" touch to make our dinner even much more enjoyable.

And the hosts, without being obtrusive in any way, were smoothly responsive to diners' wishes and comfort. All in all, a most enjoyable meal!

Friends who have sampled Nick and Gloria's homemade desserts, such as the peach cobbler and the cheesecakes and such, pronounce them quite delicious; but I never have any "space" left at the end of the meal, because the food is so tasty and the portions so generous!

I know the answer—I'll order a crab appetizer, several side orders and the crabmeat sauce and skip greedily and happily to dessert—blueberry cheesecake, anyone?

Try to learn about the nutritional content of your favorite desserts—all desserts are not created equal. A one-cup serving of frozen yogurt or ice cream, for example, provides approximately 20 percent of the U.S. RDA for calcium. A piece of chocolate cake, however, contributes only a small percentage of nutrients.

Myth: Coffee Creamers - Fewer Calories than Cream?

Both non-dairy coffee whiteners and real half and half cream have 20 calories per tablespoon. But many non-dairy coffee creamers are made with tropical oils that are high in saturated fat.

Opt for real dairy products such as milk, which are lower in fat and calories than non-dairy flavoring, and you'll also get the nutritional benefits that only real dairy products provide.

Myth: Quick Weight Loss Diets - Magic?

You've heard of the grapefruit diet and others purported to magically "melt" the pounds away. Don't be taken by these fad diets. No food or pill yet developed can burn up fat!

Still True:
The best way to lose weight and keep it off is to eat fewer calories from a variety of nutritious foods and exercise regularly.

Keith Hoda retains seat

Keith Hoda will retain his seat on the Hancock County Election Commission by a 5-0 vote.

Former Hancock County Circuit Clerk John D. Rutherford Jr. has withdrawn his candidacy to pursue his work on the Hancock Medical Center board.

Hoda will complete the unexpired term of Floyd Breau, who died in July, 1990, having been elected to a four-year term in November, 1988.

Waveland Avenue by Mississippi Power Company. A monthly fee for lighting was considered less expensive, compared to ownership and maintenance cost.

Lighting for the Martin Luther King Park was presently being estimated by the Mississippi Power Company for the same type of contractual arrangement.

Eaton discussed various streets to be evaluated for blacktopping, including Rue De LaSalle Street, Mollere Drive, Fellgrass Street, 6th Street, intersection of Jeff Davis and the east side of Nicholson Avenue.

Marcus Street to Waveland Avenue will receive additional width for safety.

Permission to advertise for bids on the Amar Street project was granted, which will begin in December.

In other business, the council heard and discussed a request from Gary Pontieaux that something be done to alleviate traffic dangers at the intersection of Union and Hancock streets. Several solutions were mentioned, including putting four-way stop signs at the intersection.

The council also:

—voted to make the 300 and 400 blocks of State Street one way from Toulme to Dunbar;

—authorized advertising for bids for Carroll Avenue and Easterbrook Street lift station engineering services;

—opened and took under advisement bids for road materials, water meters, culverts, asphalt and waterline extension construction;

—and approved the claims docket.

The council recessed to Thursday, October 4, at 5:30 p.m.

BACK TO NATURE

By Lydia Schultz

Birdwatchers be patient—annual migration gives way to winter birds

Special to the Echo
By LYDIA SCHULTZ
It is difficult to find anything good to say about the first part of September. The days were long and hot. There was not a minute's relief from the heat.

Each evening found me thinking, "One more day down. Countdown to fall." In the midst of the heat, there was the morning air that let me know fall was just around the corner. When I did find the time to get out birding, the few Warblers around were the "Fall Warblers." They were the ones we don't see here in the summer.

Friends who got out birding would come in with lists of the little insect-eating birds: Magnolia, Yellows, Redstarts, Hooded, Prairie, Palm and Yellow-Rumps, just to name a few. They become much more apparent this time of year because they have left their breeding grounds and are moving South across the Gulf.

Amidst this, we waited for a front to bring rain; but for the plants and wildlife, but most of all, a front would stop the migrating birds and allow us to enjoy them. That's precisely what happened. The front came, rains came (even if they were brief), bringing cooler mornings and days, and birds. Eleven species of Warblers were seen birds swarmed in uncountable numbers. We've had "good Hummingbird years" before, but we had great reports from everyone!

Judy Toups visited a lady in Biloxi who has 23 (!) feed-we started getting good numbers of the hummers. I had actually been fighting some concerns deep inside. When I assured my customers that they would be here, it was partially to assure myself as well. And when they came, what a show and joy they have given us. If you were ever going to get a hummer, this is your year.

Once again, let me repeat this. Do not take your hummingbird feeders down. The feeders will not stop the birds from migrating.

What else is happening birdwise? Well, activity is slow at the other bird feeders. It's a sad time of the year to look out and not see a Cardinal.

The fact is that all those young the adults fed all summer spread out into their own territories. Berries are on some of the trees and bushes and grass does to seed. There are no young to feed. They need us and our feeders less.

It's a natural time to take your feeders down, clean them, decide which ones you want to keep up for winter and which ones you want to retire.

Clean the bird houses now instead of waiting until January when it's cold and damp outside. Get it over!

Squirrels even abandon the feeders this time of year for the delicacies of pine cones, acorns and your pecans.

It leaves the feeders quiet. But in just a short time, four to eight weeks, the activity will pick up again with our winter birds.

As I've said before, the one thing we can count on is change. It is consistent when it comes to wildlife. I'm awed how these tiny creatures achieve such amazing feats as in Logtown, which seemed to be the "hot spot" for the county. Seven species of Flycatchers were laboriously identified.

But September gave us something else. Humming-ers up. She had no plants to attract them. Even so, Judy reported countless numbers of the miniature birds.

I cannot explain why the Hummingbirds seemed to be so late. It was Aug. 26 before

Last call for census forms

Those who think they were not counted in the 1990 Census have about two weeks to contact the U.S. Census Bureau, and it must be done by mail. A toll-free number for Mississippians, publicized in earlier editions of The Sea Coast Echo, has been disconnected, as has a toll-free number to Austin, Texas, published in the Sun Herald earlier this week.

Mark Mangold, public relations specialist with the Census Bureau in Washington said the bureau must wrap up its count at some time. "All that can be done at this point is to procure a 'Were You Counted?' form and mail it back pronto. This is a last-ditch effort. A lot of systems are being shut down."

He said data gathering for the census should be finished by mid-October. The final report, including population counts for the states and nation, will be submitted to President George Bush Dec. 31.

After that, population figures will be released to states for redistricting purposes on a "whoever needs it the worst" basis.

The general public will have access to the population reports in the spring, Mangold said.

SAVE THE PLANET

Can damaged ecosystems be restored, and who is responsible for their restoration? Are development and environment mutually hostile?

These are some of the tough questions examined from a multinational point in "Race To Save the Planet," a new 10-part series hosted by Academy Award-winning actress Meryl Streep, and premiering Sunday, Oct. 7 at 8 p.m. on Mississippi ETV, and continuing at 9 p.m. for the next four evenings.

Twenty years of service

Hancock County Health Department Environmentalist II Thomas Pope is presented a plaque by office manager Judy Yarbrough in gratitude for 20 years of service. Pope, enjoying the informal luncheon given in his honor, said, "I've really enjoyed working these past 20 years with all these fine people. It has just been fantastic." Co-worker Barbara Shedd said, "He's great. He's a good leader among his co-workers and within the public sector. He is very knowledgeable in his field." (Echo staff photo by Jacqui Cochran)

New directory cover

New telephone directories on way to Coast residents

South Central Bell's 1990 directory is coming soon to the residents of the Mississippi Gulf Coast. Delivery of the new comprehensive Mississippi Gulf Coast directory will begin Oct. 1 and will include listings for all cities along the entire Gulf Coast.

The inclusion of all alphabetical listings of the coastal communities was prompted by the introduction of the Area Calling Plan last December, according to Pat Santucci, district manager.

More than 20,000 customers have already converted to the plan, which makes all calling in the three coastal county area local and saves at least 2/3 over the former long distance calling charges.

In recognition of technology and its importance in the economic development of the area, the cover of the new directory features a photograph of fiber optic cable, one of the many new technologies that makes telecommunications more exciting and useful than ever.

"South Central Bell believes so strongly in Mississippi that the company needs to invest almost a billion dollars in the state over the next five years in fiber optic cable and other state-of-the-art technologies," Santucci adds.

The Mississippi Technology Transfer Office, located at NASA's John C. Stennis Space Center, was selected as the site of the first Mississippi Gulf Coast directory presentation because of their commitment to developing technologies and investment in economic potential of the future in our state.

Operated through the Mississippi Department of Economic and Community Development, MTTO assists businesses and entrepreneurs in obtaining technology developed at SSC or other federal laboratories, and identifying commercial applications for that technology.

"The application of these research projects and developments can significantly impact business and individuals in Mississippi who take advantage of these valuable resources," explained David DeBlanc, programs coordinator.

Other highlights included in the 1990 Mississippi Gulf Coast Directory are "The Real Yellow Pages" with an eight-page "Community Interest Pages" section. Immediately preceding the Yellow Pages, this section gives customers quick and easy access to helpful information about the Mississippi Gulf Coast area.

About 156,000 of the new Mississippi Gulf Coast directories will be distributed in this area. Santucci asks customers allow at least three weeks for completion of deliveries. Anyone who hasn't received a new directory by October 25 should call the South Central Bell business office.

Festival slated for War Memorial park

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

"People Caring for Pass Christian" will host a festival in War Memorial Park, Saturday, October 6 from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. and Sunday, October 7, 1-6 p.m.

"People Caring for Pass Christian" is a group of local residents who intend to raise money to be used for the construction of a connecting system of educational concrete maps.

The maps shall include the United States with each state laid out in different colors, allowing children the opportunity to walk from state to state.

A connecting map of the solar system and globe, along with a separate one of Mississippi will allow studies in topography, geography, and astronomy.

"People Caring for Pass Christian" intend to "bring together 'good people' to aid our children and our adult citizens in refurbishing our parks and promoting 'fun in learning' to assist our education systems."

The "Fabulous Fall Festival" will offer crafts, games, food, covered wagon/pony rides, entertainment by the Interns, a beauty pageant, and a haunted house among other things.

Prizes will be awarded in play money, to be accumulated towards the purchase of prizes of choice.

Those interested in setting up a booth, a concession stand or volunteering should contact Jackie Riddle at 452-4851 or 452-2168, or Vonnice Bodenschatz at 452-9842.

"People Caring for Pass Christian" encourage children to attend the festival.

Heritage Music Fest slated for October 13

E. L. S. Band and Show, three energetic young sisters and their band, head the lineup of musicians who will perform at the seventh annual Heritage Music Festival at Vicksburg City Park Pavilion on Saturday, Oct. 13.

Blaine, Lisa and Sharon Foster, the New Orleans-based group E.L.S., have performed from the Mississippi Gulf Coast to Atlantic City and at clubs, major universities and private parties all over the United States. The act includes their renditions of songs from the '60s as well as more recent hits.

The festival will also feature Vicksburg's own, The Chills.

'Color, Clothes and You' topic of Oct. 10 workshop

A fall fashion update, including selection of garments and colors to emphasize one's best features, will be presented Wednesday, Oct. 10, 12:10 to 12:50 p.m. in the fellowship hall of First Baptist Church in Bay St. Louis.

The program is designed especially for employed clientele, although the general public is more than welcome to attend. Participants may bring a brown bag lunch. Drinks will be available for a nominal fee.

"Lunch and Learn" programs will be conducted the second Wednesday of every month in downtown Bay St. Louis. This allows those employed in this area to attend educational programs sponsored by the Hancock County Extension Service Home Economics Department.

The programs are free and open to any interested person. No registration is necessary.

Upcoming classes include 'Creative Holiday Management,' 'Stress Management,'

'Decorating With Sheets,' 'Cons, Quacks and Frauds,' and 'Time Management.' Additional programs are scheduled through Sept. 1991 as follows:

Lunch and Learn
October, Color, Clothes and You; November, Creative Holiday Management; December, Stress Management;

January, Decorating with Sheets; February, Cons, Quacks and Frauds; March, Time Management; April, Houseplant Care;

May, Better Kitchen Storage; June, Standing up for Yourself; Self-confidence and Buyman-ship; July, Creating an Image: Hair and Makeup;

August, Putting it all Together: Accessories; and September, Happiness Is...

For questions concerning any of these programs, contact the Hancock County Extension Service Office at 467-5456.

BURGLARY OF A COMMERCIAL BUILDING

Damien Samuel Maurice, 30, of 516 St. Francis St., was arrested September 25 on a charge of burglary of a commercial building, according to Investigator David Parker of the Bay St. Louis Police Department.

Maurice was charged in connection with the theft of one television and the attempted theft of a second one from the Blockbusters Tavern on Sycamore St. He was arrested on a warrant by Officer Shane Corr following a report on Sept. 22 from the tavern's owner.

He is incarcerated in the Hancock County jail on $10,000 bond, Parker said.

VANDALISM INVESTIGATION

Hancock Sheriff Ronald Peterson reported Wednesday that Deputy Leo Ladner is investigating the breaking of three lights at the Pearlinton pier.

"It's definitely a case of vandalism," Peterson said. "We have three lights out, and we don't know whether they were shot, or someone threw rocks at them, or what. There were no empty shells around, but that doesn't mean they were not shot."

The department has no suspects so far, he said.

Hancock man dies in accident

James Lee Russell, 23, of the Standard community, apparently died early Monday morning in a one-vehicle accident on Kiln-DeLisle Road, according to Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson.

Lakeshore man shot in head Monday

George Singleton, 25, of Lakeshore, was transferred from Hancock Medical Center to Tulane Medical Center in New Orleans Monday for removal of a bullet from his head.

Singleton walked into the emergency room at HMC Monday after he was apparently shot in the right temple with a small-caliber projectile while at a relative's house in Shoreline Park, said Sheriff's Department Investigator Nathan Hoda.

Hoda commented that Singleton said he didn't see or hear anything before something (which turned out to be the bullet) struck him in the head.

Singleton was transferred to Tulane because his injuries involved the head and eye and required a specialist, according to an HMC spokesman.

Scanlan is art director for 'Carousel' production

The Gulf Coast Opera Theatre will present the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical, 'Carousel' Oct. 13 and 14 at the Saenger Theatre in Biloxi.

Carousel premiered in New York in 1945 and ran for 890 performances. Opening in New England in the summer of 1873, it is the story of a young working girl, Julie Jordan, who falls for a handsome carousel barker and womanizing bully, Billy Bigelow. She bears his child after he dies in the course of a bungled robbery.

In the fantasy ending, he is allowed to return to earth (briefly and with supervision) to see whether he can do a good deed in order to redeem himself.

Popular songs from Carousel include "June Is Bustin' Out All Over," "If I Loved You," and "You'll Never Walk Alone."

Mike Lacy and Marilyn

Smith play Billy Bigelow and Julie Jordan, respectively; Linda Junkin plays the role of Carrie Pipperidge, and James LeBatard plays the role of Enoch Snow Sr.

Connie Bibey will appear as Mrs. Mullin, Robert Newton as Jigger Craig and Anne Mabry as Nettie Fowler.

Carousel will be conducted by Hudson Wolfe, associate conductor of the Opera Theatre. Chester Delacruz is the general director and Jane Hardin is the musical director.

Cheryl Black is serving as choreographer, Ron Luetjen as technical director, Kathy Dodge as rehearsal pianist, Michael Rosetti as makeup artist, and Ed Scanlan of Waveland as director of scenic art and construction. Scanlan also plays the 'Heavenly Friend' in Carousel.

He has constructed the sets and scenic art for the Opera Theatre's productions of New Moon and Pagliacci, for KNS' West Side Story and Hello, Dolly! and for Riviera's Annie Get Your Gun and Gypsy.

Performance times are at 8:15 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 13, and at 2 p.m. on Sunday, Oct. 14. Tickets are $12.50 for adults and $5 for students and may be purchased at the Arts Council office in Petit Bois and at Mississippi Music on Pass Road in west Biloxi.

Tickets will be available at the door if the performances are not sold out in advance. For ticket information call 388-7736.

KATHY EDWARDS

Edwards attends language workshop

Kathy Edwards, Bay High School foreign language teacher, served as master teacher during an Institute for French Teachers at the University of Southern Mississippi during the summer.

"Project '95 Foreign Language Institutes in the Summer 1990" is a program sponsored by the Board of Trustees of State Institutions of Higher Learning and the Mississippi State Department of Education.

The purpose of the program is to increase the supply of certified foreign language teachers in Mississippi and to upgrade the skills of foreign language teachers already holding certification.

Elizabeth Anglin, director, complimented Edwards' teaching skills, enthusiasm and knowledge of subject matter, noting Bay High is fortunate to have her as a teacher.

Waveland Animal Shelter offers free gifts during Adopt-a-Dog Month

Special to the Echo

To most of us, October brings changing leaves, cooler temperatures and Halloween. But to the 13 million homeless dogs in our country, October brings hope for a loving home and family.

Meaty Bone Dog Biscuits and Jerky Treats Dog Snacks have been sponsors of Adopt-a-Dog Month for seven years on behalf of homeless dogs at more than 1,000 animal shelters, including Waveland's.

"There are more than 13 million healthy and beautiful puppies and older dogs that end up in our shelters and other shelters each year," said Lisa Hall, assistant manager of the Waveland Animal Shelter. "It's horrifying that only 27 percent of them ever get adopted."

During October, each person who adopts a dog or puppy from Waveland Animal Shelter will receive a "doggie bag" filled with a congratulatory letter from the sponsors, dog skills training brochure, samples of Meaty Bone and Jerky Treats, and coupons for future purchases.

There will also be an entry form for the 1991 Poster Dog Contest which provides dog adopters with the chances to win $5,000 and a year's supply of Meaty Bone and Jerky Treats.

The contest is open to anyone who has ever adopted a dog from an animal shelter and the winner serves as an example of the wonderful dogs available in shelters.

"We encourage anyone who has adopted a dog from our shelter to enter the contest," Hall said.

"The sponsors will be awarding the shelters from which the winning dogs came matching each grant."

Entry forms are available at Waveland Animal Shelter or by writing to Meaty Bone/Jerky Treats, 211 E. Ontario, Suite 1300, Chicago, IL 60611. The deadline is Feb. 15, 1991.

The Waveland Animal Shelter, 322 Gulfside Drive, is happy to answer any questions about adopting a dog or puppy.

For more information, call 467-0230, or stop by Tuesday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Saturday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and Monday from 9 a.m. to noon.

Kiln water on tap at Hancock High

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

"Hancock High School hooked up to the Kiln Water System Friday, Sept. 28 after 4:30 p.m.," reported Hugo Haas, manager of the Kiln Water System.

"I hooked them up myself," said Haas.

The new school had been temporarily sharing water from the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission's supply until the permanent tie-in could be accomplished.

Haas added, "As soon as the money came in and the materials were delivered, the work took three days."

John Fields of Tompkins, Hansen & Fields architectural firm reported the progress to the county school board Monday.

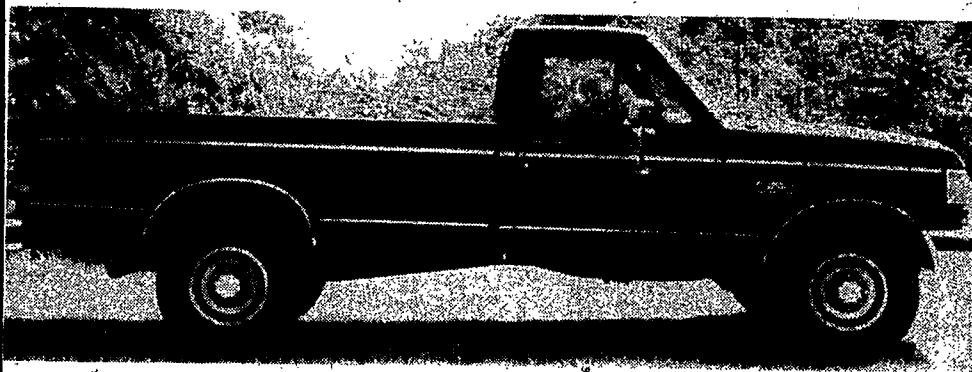

"The water pressure is good," Fields told the board.

The Hancock County Health Department in Bay St. Louis reported routine test samples were taken Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. The results are expected to be back from Jackson by Friday.

Tigers, 'Cats sharpen claws for Bay homecoming faceoff

BY TRACI BONNEY

Despite a stinging loss to the East Central Hornets last week, Bay High Tigers head coach Rocky Gaudin is expecting a good game against the Long Beach Bearcats for Friday's homecoming game.

Gaudin said he thinks the game will be an even matchup. Their team is similar to ours in many ways. They have young players and a new coaching staff. They've had a hard season and are looking for a win.

"Looking for a win" may be a mild way to describe the Bearcats' attitude toward this game against a longtime rival. The 'Cats, who are 0-5 for the season, are more likely to be out for blood as they meet the Tigers, who stand at 1-4 for 1990.

Gaudin said the fact that this is the homecoming game has little effect on the Tigers' determination to win.

"I think homecoming is more for the alumni, students and faculty than the team and coaches," he commented. "If you were to ask other coaches, I think they would tell you the same thing."

"The two things that are important to us are that we are playing at home, and that it's a rivalry game."

Gaudin cited the size of the players, the aggressiveness of the defensive line and the capability of tailback Donald Lyons as strong points in the Bearcats' lineup.

On the other hand, he pointed out that the 'Cats are

Hancock faces district foe St. Martin

The Hancock Hawks will host the St. Martin Yellow Jackets tomorrow night as their homecoming opponent. The game will be played at the new Hancock High School stadium.

This is a very important district game for both teams. It is a "do-or-die" game for St. Martin as they are 0-1 in district play, having lost to d'Iberville last week.

Hancock is sitting at 3-0 and has sole possession of first place in the district race if they win. "St. Martin has a tough running back, Demetris Mosely, who carried the ball 33 times gaining more than 230 yards rushing last week. They run a lot of trips and basically just try to block for Mosely. The Yellow Jackets utilize the same defense as St. Stanislaus. Let's hope they are not as fired up as the Rocks were last week," commented scouting coach Fred Bilbo.

Hawk head coach Irvin Favre said, "Basically we will be playing the same type of ball with very few changes. We have to keep our minds on the game and play hard. I really was not satisfied with last week's performance. Even though we won, our full potential was not shown against St. Stanislaus."

Favre added, "We have two players out of action this week due to injuries. Steve Miller has a hurt knee and Jody Ladner has an injured shoulder."

"This is a key game to win. We're really going to have to shut down Mosely, as he is their

Raiders claim close win

The Coast Episcopal Raiders stopped Camden, Ark. on a two-point conversion with 1:55 left in the game to hold on for a 27-26 victory Saturday night.

The Raiders, who entered the game without starting left guard, senior Clay Adams, had to overcome injuries to wide receiver sophomore Dave Hagan and junior tailback Rusty Necaise.

Hagan and Necaise were also the starting cornerbacks for the Raiders.

Coast scored on their first possession of the game when senior quarterback Bruce Hull connected with Rusty Necaise on a 20-yard scoring pass. The two-point conversion failed and the Raiders led 6-0.

The Raiders' next touchdown came on a three-yard run by senior Jack Coggin with Hull adding the two-point conversion making the score 14-0.

Camden answered back on their next possession when they connected on a 30-yard touchdown pass. The two-point conversion failed and the Raiders led 14-6.

Late in the first half, the Raiders scored again, this time on an 11-yard pass from Hull to junior Adam Farragut with Rusty Necaise adding the two-point conversion.

Camden came right back, and with :28 left in the half, they scored on a 15-yard touchdown run. The two-point conversion was good, and the Raiders led 22-14 at the half.

The Raiders' next score came when Camden was backed up near their own goal line. On fourth down, the ball was snapped over the punter's head and rolled out the end zone to make the score 24-14.

Camden scored late in the third quarter on a 45-yard touchdown pass, cutting the lead to 24-20. The two-point conversion once again failed.

In the fourth quarter, sophomore Nathan Guice booted a 21-yard field goal making the score 27-20.

Camden scored its final touchdown of the game with 1:55 left, making the score 27-26.

The two-point conversion was stopped when Jack Coggin and Dave Hagan stopped the tailback on a toss sweep, enabling the Raiders to capture

BWYC hosts annual Monk Smith Regatta

Fall was welcomed last weekend at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club with the annual Monk Smith Regatta, Sept. 29-30.

The following sailors posted wins in the Flying Scots category with seven boats participating:

First place, Charlie Merrigan with crew Gilly Chamberlain, BWYC; second place, Bishop Stieffel with crew Konnie Merrigan, BWYC; third place, Brent Barnett with crews Rosy Hebbler and Jim Bennett, New Orleans Yacht Club.

Nine boats competed in the 420's category for junior sailors. Winners were:

First place, Kevin Northrup with crew Pat Kennelly, Pass

Christian Yacht Club; second place, Chris Williams, Southern Yacht Club; and third place, Mallory Mestayer with crew Wayne Murphy, BWYC.

By far the largest group competing were optimist sailors, who were divided into four fleets. Overall winners were first place, Daniel Meade and second place, Brian Wynne, Southern Yacht Club; and third place, Sanders Kane, BWYC.

Individual fleet winners were as follows:

Red Fleet (13-15 years): First place, David Dabney, Fairhope Yacht Club; second place, Danielle Colle, Southern Yacht Club; and third place, Eric Warren, Gulfport Yacht Club.

Blue Fleet (11-12 years): First place, Daniel Meade, SYC; second place, Brian Wynne, SYC; and third place, Sanders Kane, BWYC.

White Fleet (up to 10 years): First place, Willem Young, SYC; second place, Marcus Eagan, BWYC; and third place, Cardwell Potts, SYC.

Twelve beginners competed in the Green Fleet (ages seven and up). Included were Elizabeth Uram, Emily Taylor, William Galloway, Ryan Delarosa, Ben Comar, Ashley Trahan, Sally Dane, Rimmer Covington, B. J. Keel, David Taylor, Jordan Eagan and Chevonnie Daigre.

Pirates travel to East Central

Special to the Echo
BY PATRICK MCKEE
The Pass Christian Pirates will take on the East Central Hornets in an away game this Friday night. The action starts at 7:30 p.m.

"They're a tough team," said Pirate head coach Joseph Brown. "We are going to have to function as a team. We are going to have to play football."

Brown went on to say that the East Central offense was formidable. "They have a good quarterback. They also have a couple of good running backs. We are going to have to get our kids ready to play."

Last week the Pirates lost a heartbreaker to the Stone County Tomcats. After a pass interference call against the Pirates, Stone County found themselves on the Pirates' 15-yard line. With just 17 seconds to play, the Tomcats kicked a field goal to give them a 16-14 edge over Pass Christian. "We never touched that kid," said a disgruntled Brown, referring to the pass interference call. "I've seen the film. There was no interference. We had the opportunity to win that game. The officials did a lousy job."

Brown expressed concern over the number of penalties that have been called against the Pirates in the last few games. "We are not that bad," he said.

"It was a tough loss," said assistant coach Glenn Williams. "The kids played their hearts out, but we have to bounce back. We have to get ready to play East Central."

Commenting on the sportsmanlike conduct of the team after such a disappointing loss, Williams added, "We win with class, and we lose with class."

The Player of the Week award for offense went to Winfred Rials. The defense award was given to Charles Lizana, and the special teams award went to punter Samuel Bishop.

When asked what he will concentrate on this week in preparing for East Central, Brown said the loss to Stone County cannot dominate preparations for this week's game. "We've got to work hard on attitudes," he said. "We'll stick to our game plan."

Golden Games offer senior competition

Mississippi Regional Golden Games expects hundreds of competitors on the Mississippi Gulf Coast Oct. 25-27.

Seniors, 50 years of age and older, may register for the annual Regional Golden Games. The games will be at Gulfport High School, Biloxi Natatorium and Keesler Air Force Base in Biloxi.

The Golden Games offer competitions in running, swimming, tennis, golf, cycling, bowling, horseshoes, softball toss, race walking, and 20 other sporting and recreational events.

The games stress physical fitness and activity and offer participants the opportunity to enjoy athletic competition, meet new friends and renew friendships made during previous competitions.

Participants compete with others in five-year age brackets.

The Golden Games are presented in cooperation with Hancock Bank, Mississippi Council on Aging, AARP, NARFE and RSVP.

The Mississippi Regional Golden Games will be a sanctioned event for the 1991 U. S. national Senior Olympics to be held in Syracuse, N.Y. in 1991.

All medalists in selected sports categories will qualify to participate in the national event in the following sports: swimming, tennis, bowling, horseshoes, archery, golf, cycling, track and field, table tennis, volleyball, softball and a 10K run.

The first U.S. National Senior Olympics were held in 1987 with more than 2,800 senior athletes representing 44 states, the District of Columbia, Canada and Taiwan.

Registration to participate in the Mississippi Golden Games is through Oct. 7.

For more information concerning qualifying for the U. S. National Senior Olympics, contact Don Cross at the U. S. Naval Home, 896-8469 or the Mississippi Council on Aging at 1-800-444-8014.

EARTHQUAKE PROTECTION

Earthquakes are a peril that the coast has never been concerned with—up until now. It now seems with all the scientific data available that our area may well be affected by a fault line to our north. Most insurance companies will provide earthquake coverage by an endorsement to an existing Homeowner or Dwelling Fire policy as well as on Commercial buildings. You should call your agent for further information on this valuable coverage.

Our agents would be most happy to discuss this coverage along with your home and commercial insurance needs. Just give us a call at the number listed below, or visit our office at 114 Main St., Bay St. Louis.

Hancock, SSC jr. high results

Hancock High School's ninth grade football squad bested St. Stanislaus last Thursday night. The Hawks beat the Rocks and improved on their record to 2-1. Hancock's other win came at the hands of Pass Christian while they lost to Pearl River Central.

The seventh and eighth grade team lost to St. Stanislaus, dropping their season record to 1 and 3. The Hawks beat Pass Christian and lost to Poplarville and Pearl River Central.

Hancock's two junior high squads travel to St. Martin in Jackson County to take on the Yellow Jackets tonight at 5:30 big man," he said. Last year Hancock rained on St. Martin's homecoming for the district title. The Hawks won and the Yellow Jackets look to return the favor. Festivities will begin at 7 p.m. with last year's queen, Cheree Ladner crowning the new queen, who was elected by the senior class.

The kickoff is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. with a homecoming dance following the game in the new Commons area.

Shabazz adds TD to assist in Yale win

Ya-Sin Shabazz, a junior wide receiver from Bay St. Louis, scored a touchdown to help the Yale Bulldog football team defeat Lafayette, 18-17.

Shabazz, a graduate of St. Stanislaus, scored Yale's first touchdown in the first quarter after catching a pass down the left sideline and racing 39 yards to paydirt. On the season, Shabazz has two catches for 73 yards.

The Bulldogs, 2-0, (1-0 Ivy) head into the third week of competition looking to down intrastate rival Connecticut at the Yale Bowl in New Haven.

Shabazz, an economics and political science major, is the son of Shakira Shabazz of Bay St. Louis.

young, inexperienced and struggling against low morale.

Speaking of the Tigers' defeat by the Hornets, Gaudin said, "I think our team did a lot better last week than the score indicated." He commended the Tigers' efforts at moving the ball down the field.

"I believe we're a lot better team than we were earlier in the season," he concluded.

For those students, faculty, alumni and other Tiger fans caught up in the revelry of the week, Bay High's homecoming parade will start at 4 p.m. Friday at the Bay Middle School and will go through the downtown area.

Pregame activities Friday night will start at 7 p.m. and will include the presentation of the homecoming court and crowning of the queen. At half-time, graduates of the Class of 1940 will be honored.

Class of 1940 members will also be the guests of honor at a reception, hosted by the Bay High Athletic Club, in the multi-purpose room in the new wing of the high school at 9:30 p.m.

St. Stanislaus will hold its 1990 Homecoming on Friday, Oct. 5. All alumni of St. Stanislaus are invited to take part in the activities on the school campus.

A pep rally will be in the school gym on Thursday at 7 p.m. On Friday there will be a homecoming party for alumni and friends of St. Stanislaus beginning at 5:15 p.m.

The homecoming game between St. Stanislaus and Salmen High of Slidell will begin at 7:30 p.m. The homecoming court will be formally presented at half-time ceremonies and again at the homecoming dance on Saturday.

This year's homecoming queen is Tami Satchfield. Maids are Christi Campbell, Rachel Fillingame, Alison Ledet and Blair Shellnut.

Miss Satchfield is a junior at Our Lady Academy where she is involved in campus ministry, SADD (Students Against Driving Drunk), the Environmental Club and the yearbook committee.

She is a member of the track and cross country team; and she was a St. Stanislaus varsity cheerleader as a sophomore. She is a member of the Princess Shop Teen Board.

She is the daughter of Mrs. Sunny Satchfield of Pass Christian and Daniel

Tami Satchfield

Satchfield of Long Beach.

Miss Campbell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Tuck of Pascagoula. She is a senior at Resurrection High School in Pascagoula.

She is a member of the Spirit Club, the Science Club, the school newspaper and the yearbook staff. She is presently serving as secretary of the CYO (Catholic Youth Organization) in Pascagoula.

Miss Fillingame is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Les Fillingame of Bay St. Louis. She is a senior at Our Lady Academy. She is an honor roll student and a member of the Spanish Honor Society.

She is involved in campus ministry, SADD, soccer and track. She serves as senior class president and vice-president of the OLA Athletic Club.

She is co-captain of the St. Stanislaus varsity cheerleaders. She is a member of the St. Clare CYO and a member of the Princess Shop Teen Board.

Miss Ledet is the daughter of Mrs. Kermit Ledet and the late Mr. Ledet. She is a senior at E. D. White Catholic High School in Thibodaux, La.

She is involved in campus ministry and the Right to Life Movement. She is recording secretary of the Student Council and vice-president of the Girls Service Organization, where she received the Outstanding Service Award.

Miss Shellnut is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Shellnut of Pass Christian. She is a junior at Coast Episcopal High School in Pass Christian.

She is a member of the French Club, the Student Council, the tennis team and the volleyball team. She was freshman and sophomore class president, and she serves as junior class representative.

She has won the French Award and the Art Award; and she was district runner-up in girls tennis singles.

The homecoming dance will be 8 p.m. until midnight in the Student Union at St. Stanislaus and is open to high school students at St. Stanislaus.

Brooks shines in Alabama meet

BY ELLIS CUEVAS
Brian Brooks of St. Stanislaus finished second overall in the Festival Park cross-country meet Saturday in Grand Bay, Ala. His time was 15:38 over the hilly course.

A total of 14 schools participated in the morning meet with top honor team being McGill-Toolen of Mobile with Stanislaus finishing seventh.

Brooks wound up second in the individual race competition with a stretch dual between him and Conrad Nichols of McGill-Toolen.

Chris Kehoe finished ninth in the senior competition.

In the freshmen competition, Brian Carter, finished fifth overall.

Also competing for SSC were Scott Marechal, Brian Platz, Nick Walker, Dale DeCamp, Philip Dunlap and Teddy Bel-som. In the freshmen division David Bell also participated.

Can Arthritis Really Be Cured?

It's a simple question, one we've asked all the time. The answer is yes. And no.

The first thing we need to find out is what kind of arthritis you have. As in all fields of medicine, making the right diagnosis comes before prescribing the right treatment.

As rheumatologists, we're M.D.s trained and Board Certified in Internal Medicine and, in Dr. Marielisa Sedrish's case, in Pediatrics as well. After completing the exhaustive training required to become a 'primary care physician' (e.g. Internist, Pediatrician, Family Practitioner), a physician must dedicate at least two more years studying arthritis and immune diseases to become a rheumatologist.

That time is spent recognizing and treating the dozens of different types of arthritis. And by narrowing the field of study to one area, it becomes possible to keep up with all the research into new treatments of these crippling diseases.

Working with your primary care doctor, we may be able to get your arthritis under control and prevent it from doing further damage. And if yours is one of the curable forms of arthritis, such as Lyme Disease, then of course the news is even better.

Duck hunting dates set

Hunting ducks this winter in Mississippi gets under way Dec. 8 and continues through Jan. 6. But conservation officials say hunters should not get their making these projections in 1969.

Biologists say that waterfowl numbers fell to record lows during the 1980s as a result of hopes too high for an abundance of waterfowl.

With duck populations at an all-time low, the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service estimates the fall flight of ducks at 64 million birds. This is about the same as last year and the third lowest figure since the Service began severe drought in prairie nesting areas and continued destruction of wetlands across the United States and Canada.

In Mississippi the daily bag limit on ducks will be three and the possession limit will be six. A possession limit is not permitted on the opening day of any migratory bird season, according to the Department of Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks.

The daily limit cannot contain more than two mallards, no more than one of which can be female, one black duck, two wood ducks, one pintail, or one redhead.

The daily limit on mergansers is five, with no more than one being a hooded merganser. Possession limit is twice the daily bag limit.

Since waterfowl are migratory birds protected by state and federal laws, hunters must have their shotguns plugged and incapable of holding more than three shells. Hunters must have a valid hunting license, signed and on their person, before going afield.

Geese, which nest farther north than ducks, generally have fared better than ducks during the past decade.

Most Canada goose populations migrating south this fall should be similar to last year.

Giant Canada geese are continuing to do well and should have a larger fall flight than last year.

The numbers of greater white-fronted geese migrating to Mississippi, Louisiana, and adjacent coastal areas are expected to be similar to last year.

In Mississippi the statewide Canada goose season opens Dec. 8 and closes Jan. 31. The daily limit is two and the possession limit is four. Hunting Canada geese within the Sardinia Zone begins Dec. 8 and ends Jan. 12. There, the daily limit is one and the possession limit is two.

The season on snow geese and blue geese begins Nov. 13 and ends Jan. 31. The daily limit is 7 and the possession limit is 14.

Hunting white-fronted geese opens Nov. 23 and ends Jan. 31. The daily limit is 2 and the possession limit is 4.

The daily bag and possession limits for coots are 15 and 30, respectively.

Hunters 16 years and older are required to purchase a federal duck stamp, as well as a $2 state duck stamp.

Squirrel hunting season underway

Squirrel hunting season opened last weekend and continues through Jan. 31 in Mississippi.

Hunters should remember they must have a valid hunting license signed and on their person before going hunting.

The daily bag limit on squirrels is eight, and the possession limit is 16 with no possession limit on the opening day of any season.

Legal shooting hours for squirrels are one-half hour before sunrise until one-half after sunset.

Conservation officers say it is illegal to hunt or kill any game animal, furbearing animal, or game bird from any motorized vehicle or boat. However, squirrels and waterfowl may be hunted from a boat if the motor is off and the progress of the boat has ceased.

The Department of Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks reports that more than 1.7 million squirrels were taken across Mississippi last year.

Almost 144,000 hunters spent just over 742,000 man-days hunting squirrels.

The average hunter spent almost six days hunting squirrels for an average daily bag of about two squirrels. Hunters took almost 13 squirrels as a seasonal average.

Tiger tracks

Tiger mascot Patty Weems assists City of Bay St. Louis employees Tyrone Wright and Sam Dorsey as they mark the way to Bay High's Tiger Stadium from Highway 90. Bright yellow-gold paw prints lead the way to Athletic Drive. Bay Mayor Edward Favre supervises the project.

their fourth win of the season. "I told the kids at halftime that the game would come down to whether or not we could stop a two-point conversion," said Raider Coach Jack Hutchinson. They showed a lot of guts and did what it took to win." "Freshmen Terry Welch, Joey Jenkins and Ken Persons all did an outstanding job going in for some injured players. These kids are learning how to win and when you learn how to win, you tend to work harder," Hutchinson said.

The Raiders close out their season Friday night when they travel to Foley, Ala. Kickoff is set for 7:30 p.m.

IN THE CHANCERY COURT OF HANCOCK COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI
ELISKA YATE ACKER WILLIAMS, PLAINTIFF VERSUS
LOUIS ACKER, DEFENDANT
NOTICE OF SALE OF PROPERTY FOR PARTITION
NO. 10,800
By Virtue of the provisions of a Judgment of the Chancery Court of Hancock County, Mississippi, rendered by said Court on the 28th day of February, 1989, the undersigned Special Commissioner of said Court in said cause will on Tuesday, the 30th day of October, 1990, at Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, within legal hours at the front door of the Hancock County Courthouse expose for sale and sell to the highest bidder for cash the following described property situated in Hancock County, Mississippi, and more particularly described as follows:
Commencing at the intersection of the South line of Citron Street and the West line of Hancock Street; thence North 70 degrees West 587 feet to a stake for the place of beginning of the land hereby described; thence South 20 degrees West 191.8 feet, more or less, to the South line of Lot 16, Fourth Ward, City of Bay St. Louis; thence North 70 degrees West 48 feet along said South line of Lot 16 to a stake; thence North 20 degrees East 181 feet to a stake set on the South line of Citron Street; thence South 70 degrees East 48 feet to the place of beginning; being a part of Lots 15 and 16, Fourth Ward, City of Bay St. Louis, Hancock County, Mississippi, as per official plat of said city made by E. S. Drake, C.E., and filed in the office of the Chancery Clerk of Hancock County, Mississippi, on May 1, 1923.
The said property is sold for partitioning among the owners according to said Judgment and the titles believed to be good, but I will convey only such title as is vested in me as said Special Commissioner.
WITNESS my signature on this, the 1st day of October, 1990.

Price, Ruhr complete safety training

Gerald Price and Roy Ruhr Jr. have completed a comprehensive G.A.S. Check training program at the Blossman Gas training center in Ocean Springs.

Price, a resident of Bay St. Louis, is employed as L.P. gas serviceman at the Blossman Gas branch office in Waveland.

Ruhr, also a Bay St. Louis resident, is employed in utility sales at the Bay St. Louis branch.

G.A.S. Check, which stands for Gas Appliance System Check-up, is a national safety program designed to reduce the chances of accidental injury to consumers and to reduce property damage. Its goal is to eliminate residential accidents involving propane gas.

"Research has shown that the major cause of residential accidents involving propane gas are misuse and abuse of equipment, uninformed or misinformed consumers, faulty and/or outdated equipment, and poor or deteriorated installations," said Blossman technical service manager Fred Gass. "G.A.S. Check is an attempt to eliminate these problems."

The National Propane Gas Association (NPGA) in cooperation with the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association (GAMA) developed G.A.S. Check. Nationally, the NPGA anticipates that 5.5 million installations will be inspected over the next five years.

Blossman Gas, as one of the first participants in this voluntary program, has committed to the eventual inspection of all of their residential propane appliance installations, according to its president, John R. Blossman.

"Consumer safety is our number one priority," he said, "and G.A.S. Check is representative of our commitment to the objective of public education and consumer fire safety."

The check includes inspection of the user's entire propane system, from the tank to the burner tip; all gas appliances and their controls, piping, tanks and regulators.

Before performing the check, qualified service personnel receive extensive classroom and hands-on training at the Ocean Springs facility, and then must be field certified by a qualified G.A.S. check technician. To date, more than 173 Blossman Gas employees have been G.A.S. Check certified.

State Guard stands ready

The recent crisis and callup of reserve and National Guard units in Mississippi has brought many inquiries to the military and media from concerned Mississippians seeking a way to serve their country. Actually, there is an organization already formed and in place specifically for this purpose.

Organized in 1987, the Mississippi State Guard is an all volunteer, non-compensated military organization trained to replace or supplement National Guard units called to prolonged active federal duty by President George Bush.

Major Gen. Roy H. Sawyer, commander of the State Guard, said the State Guard is to the National Guard what the National Guard is to the United States Army.

"Specifically, our mission is a state mission similar to that of the Army National Guard: Protection of lives and property of our citizens during disaster relief, operations, search and rescue, civil defense, security of key facilities and the operation and custodianship of Mississippi National Guard facilities," Sawyer said.

The State Guard, like the National Guard, is under the control of the Governor and Adjutant General of Mississippi.

"Our units are comprised primarily of retired or former servicemen and women who are concerned for their families, neighbors, community, state and nation," said Brig. Gen. John A. Griffing, commander of the State Guard's Third Infantry Brigade, headquartered in Hattiesburg.

"We are willing and able to do whatever is necessary to preserve life and property in Mississippi."

Anyone, male or female, over the age of 17 who is not a member of the active or reserve components of the U.S. Military forces and is not a convicted felon is eligible for membership in the State Guard. No physical examination is required.

Members of the State Guard, whether enlisted or officer, must purchase their own uniforms and accessories, and they receive no pay unless called to duty by the governor.

Individuals holding positions in the regular or reserve forces are not eligible to join. Membership in the State Guard does not preclude a call to active federal service.

For more information, call Colonel Hearold Nelson at 388-2840, Captain Sam Oxman at 388-6410 or State Headquarters at 601-973-6276 in Jackson.

Operation Southern Comfort

Judy Gavigny, left, first vice president of American Legion Auxiliary to Post #139, along with Lou Wilkerson, center, second vice president for the Department of Mississippi, and Bobbye Tomlinson, Post #139 Auxiliary treasurer, pack a box with items to send to American troops in Saudi Arabia. "Operation Southern Comfort" is a joint effort by Post #139 and its auxiliary to send relief to Mississippians and their comrades. Local residents are urged to participate. For more information, call Gavigny at 467-0734, Wilkerson at 467-6098 or Tomlinson at 467-8315.

Twelfth annual Salute to Military scheduled

The 12th annual Salute to the Military will be Monday, Oct. 15 at the Mississippi Coast Convention Center.

General John M. Loh, acting chief of staff, U.S. Air Force, will be the principal speaker.

General Loh will be introduced by Senator Trent Lott, who extended the invitation on behalf of the Mississippi Gulf Coast Chamber of Commerce.

Last year's salute had more than 1,260 in attendance to hear Defense Secretary Dick Cheney.

The evening will begin with a reception at 6 p.m. in the convention center, with the doors to the banquet hall opening at 7 p.m. and the program getting underway at 7:30.

Jeff Lawson, news anchor at WLOX-TV, will be the master of ceremonies.

The salute opening will feature the Air Force University Band of Maxwell AFB, Ala., and a pageant of 100 flags in a spectacular "Salute to America."

A 12-member All-Service Honor Guard will also be part of the ceremony, as well as the 75-member Long Beach Concert Choir and the traditional introduction of military installation commanders.

Introductory remarks will be made by Joe Ethridge, president of the Coast chamber, and General Loh's remarks will conclude the event.

Formal dress is preferred, business attire accepted.

Tickets are $30 each, and a table, seating ten may be reserved for $300. Tickets for active duty military personnel are $22, and a military table will be $220.

For ticket information or other information, contact the Coast Chamber Gulfport office at 863-2933. Tickets may also be purchased at the Coast Chamber office in Biloxi, Long Beach, Orange Grove and Pass Christian.

Defense Department seeks health care information

The Department of Defense is working to improve medical care services for active duty military families and retired personnel and their families. To support this effort, more information is needed on those served.

Many Mississippi Gulf Coast family members, both active duty and retirees, will be receiving a special health care questionnaire in the next few weeks. Some people may have already received the survey.

The study is sponsored by the Department of Defense, mandated by Congress and conducted by the Rand Corporation. Rand is a non-profit civilian research center with four decades of experience in public policy research.

DoD is attempting to find out more about the health of military families; their ability to get medical care, and their feelings about the medical care they currently receive.

Full participation is encouraged because opinions and responses provided will help develop ways to improve health care for all military and retired families.

Participation is voluntary and all answers remain strictly confidential. If you or your family receive a questionnaire, please assist the Department of Defense by filling it out and returning it promptly.

NOTICE TO ALL PATIENTS OF DR. JOHN E. HANSON, OPTOMETRIST

(Deceased)

The practice of Dr. Hanson will remain open under the name of Bay Optical. Office hours are 9 a.m.-5 p.m., Monday through Friday. Licensed optometrists and technicians will continue to provide professional optometric services. Scheduled appointments or walk-ins are welcomed.

Army campaign encourages students to stay in school

The Army wants you—to stay in school. The Army is unveiling a campaign in Mississippi urging secondary students to stay the course until they graduate from high school. This message isn't in code. If you lack a high school diploma or its equivalent, don't count on the Army to supply you with a career.

"Today's Army is not a refuge for dropouts," said LTC Jim Verney, commander of the Jackson Army Recruiting Battalion. "It is next to impossible for a young man or woman to join my profession without a high school diploma."

A private entering today's Army will earn $724 a month, not counting such benefits as free housing, clothing, meals, medical care and travel. If he or she gets a friend to also enlist, the entry rank climbs and the pay increases to $811 per month.

A 20-year career soldier who reaches the rank of sergeant major will earn the equivalent of a $58,000 civilian salary, including benefits.

The modern soldier uses technology as sophisticated as that used by any other professional, explained Sergeant Major Milton Ayers of the Jackson Army Recruiting Battalion. "We don't want an eighth-grade dropout driving our highly sophisticated main battle tank or repairing electronics on attack helicopters," he said.

A soldier who operates a big cannon must be able to use a MS-DOS computer system. "You now have to be computer literate to be in the combat arms field," related SGM Ayers. "It seems logical to stay in school and get a diploma," he added.

To emphasize the importance of the stay-in-school message, Army recruiting will supply schools with banners, posters and book covers. Students will also be personally contacted and encouraged to remain in high school.

"Everyone has had the impression for the past 20 years that the Army was the last resort. You could always get a job in the Army," SGM Ayers said, adding "That's no longer the case."

For information on the stay-in-school campaign, contact your local Army recruiter.

Advanced students sought for ballet ensemble audition

Auditions will be Saturday, Oct. 6 at 10:30 a.m. to select dancers for the newly formed Coast Youth Ballet Ensemble under the direction of Sharon Loiacano.

Loiacano is looking for dancers age 11 and older with at least three years of classical ballet training who are on pointe or starting pointe this year.

Dancers should wear leotards and tights and arrive at The Ballet Place dance studio at 211 Necaise Avenue, Bay St. Louis by 10:15 a.m. with ballet shoes and toe shoes.

The audition class should last about one and one-half hours after which the 15 performing members and five apprentice members will be announced. Those selected will be asked to stay until 1 p.m.

The first performance for the Coast Youth Ballet Ensemble is scheduled for Dec. 7, and dancers will be required to attend weekend rehearsals starting Oct. 13.

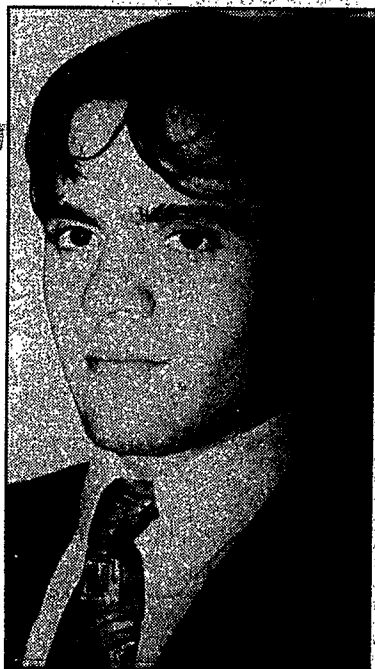

The CYB Ensemble will be available to perform for local organizations and events. Contact Sharon Loiacano at 466-2625 or 467-4601 for more information on the audition or booking performances.

"Forming the ensemble will offer my advanced students and other local dancers who are serious about performing an outlet to gain valuable on-stage experience," said Loiacano.

With the completion of the new performing arts auditorium at Bay High School, we will have a wonderful facility available to make performing opportunities possible locally.

SSC's Williams named National Merit Semifinalist

JOE WILLIAMS

Joe Williams, a senior at St. Stanislaus High School, has been named a National Merit Semifinalist for the 1990-91 school session.

Merit semifinalists are among the highest scorers in each state on the 1990 Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test and the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT), which was administered to more than one million students throughout the United States.

The semifinalists represent the top one-half of one percent of those taking the test on a nationwide basis; and they become eligible to be named as National Merit Finalists. These finalists will be announced in April, 1991.

Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Williams of Bay St. Louis, is presently in his sixth year at St. Stanislaus.

He is president of Mu Alpha Theta, vice president of the National Honor Society, captain of the Quiz Bowl Team, and a member of the Key Club.

I his junior year, he placed second in chemistry in JETS competition, and he placed third in chemistry and second in biology at the Mississippi State Science and Math Competition.

He was Pepsi Student of the Month during his junior year and he represented St. Stanislaus at the youth council for the Diocese of Biloxi.

He has taken part in football, track and soccer; and he is a varsity cheerleader at St. Stanislaus. Upon completion of high school, Williams plans to study engineering at either Rice University or Tulane University.

Bay Catholic students hear Career Week speeches

Special to the Echo Bay Catholic Elementary School students glimpsed the futures they are working toward, as professionals from all walks of life addressed them during a recent Career Week.

Speakers from the local community who shared some of their success with the BCE classes included State Senator Vic Frankiewicz, artist Barbara Brodtmann, State Farm insurance agent Mike Meyers and forester Mark Jamieson.

Some of the visitors included demonstrations of their work as well. Linda Cuevas, who runs her own catering business, offered tips on cake decorating and invited students to try it themselves during her presentation.

Jerry L'Enfant, outside plant engineer for South Central Bell, arrived with an armful of wires so his audience could get a firsthand look at copper cable and fiber optic cable.

Others who shared their time and talent with the Bay Catholic youngsters during Career Week and their topics or businesses included, Parker Rhett, aviation; Mike Benvenutti, Bay Motor Rewinding; Rachael Thiac, real estate; H.A. Kidd, woodworking; Rae Ann Ryan, travel agent; social worker Celeste Proulx and George Proulx, Alcan Cable Co.
